BOARD DISCUSSES TAX COLLECTION

No Action Taken Empowering City Treasurer to Handle Tax Receipts for City Property.

POINTS OF LAW ARE RAISED

Stated That City Official is not Empowered to Bring Suit to Collect Delinquent Amounts.

Questioning the authority of the city treasurer to institute suit for the collection of delinquent taxes and doubting the advisability of changing the present system of paying taxes, the city council, sitting as the board of public works, Tuesday night, took no action on the suggestion that city taxes be paid at the office of the city treasurer. Since 1907 both city and county taxes have been paid to the county treasurer who has made settlements with the city for the amounts that belonged to that corporation. The proposed change was suggested by City Attorney Albert H. Kasting who believed that a larger amount of delinquent taxes could be collected by the city official than by the county treasurer.

The city attorney told the board last night that he had found that the legislature of 1911 had changed the law of 1905 and that the newer statute authorized the city treasurer to collect taxes. He said he thought that if the change was made this city would receive about $2,000 more each year as the city treasurer would be more interested in collecting the delinquents.

C. W. Burkart, of the treasurer's office, was present at the meeting last night and was asked for an opinion about the proposed change. He said that the matter had previously been presented to him and that he with well informed attorneys had made an investigation of the Indiana laws and came to the conclusion that the city treasurer did not have the power to bring suit to collect the delinquent taxes. He said that the statute of 1905 and 1911 had been compared and that the latter provided that the city treasurer be "authorized to collect taxes." He explained however, that nowhere in the statute was the city treasurer given the same powers as the county treasurer to bring suit. Without this authority, Mr. Burkart said, the whole purpose of the proposed change would be lost as it is the delinquent amounts that are involved.

Mr. Burkart further stated that when the city treasurers collected city taxes the city clerk made the tax duplicate. He indicated that the city clerk was not now empowered to do this work and there would be no check on the treasurer. With the county treasurer collecting city taxes the county auditor makes the duplicate.

Another point that was raised in objection to the plan was that when the change was made in 1907 there was considerable confusion until after taxpayers in the city became accustomed to settling with the county treasurer for both city and county taxes. Now, it is stated, they have learned they can settle all their taxes at the same office in the court house and to revert to the old plan adding

CALL STATIONS MAY BE USED IN BUSINESS DISTRICT

Suggested That Special Telephones be Installed for Use of Police and Fire Departments.

In order to increase the efficiency of the police and fire departments it has been proposed that a number of call stations be installed at various places in the business district which could be used by the night police to receive and register calls and also to notify the fire department of fires. It has been suggested that the stations be installed in alleys, probably one in each block in the downtown district.

L. C. Griffiths, owner of the local telephone company, said today that the stations could be erected at a comparatively small cost. The plan was also suggested recently by Nathan Kaufman who believed that both the police and fire departments could use them to a good advantage.

The plan is to have the several stations connected with the police station. The night policemen would be required to call the police station several times during the night and by a specially arranged device there the hour at which the call was sent in would be registered.

Frequently the police station receives calls during the night and it is difficult to get in immediate touch with the police who are working their "beats." With the telephones in use the policemen could keep in touch with the station at all times. In case a policeman on duty heard of a robbery he could call the station for assistance without a loss of time. If a fire occurred a short distance from him the alarm could be sounded without the need of hunting up a house which had telephone service.

The system that is proposed here is similar to that in use in a number of cities. Locally, however, it is proposed to confine the system to the downtown section at first until it has been given a thorough trial. The matter is being discussed among the business men and if considered a benefit over the present system, recommendations will likely be filed with the council.

AHLBRAND DEALERS GATHER IN CITY

Many Out-of-Town Representatives Here For Third Annual Home-Coming of Local Firm.

EVENT LASTS ALL WEEK

Banquet Last Evening at Lutheran Club Building Proves Most Enjoyable Aair.

The first of a series of three banquets arranged by the Ahlbrand Carriage Company in honor of its visiting dealers from several different states who are here for the third annual homecoming of Ahlbrand boosters, was held last evening in the auditorium of the Lutheran club building. More than thirty dealers arrived yesterday, and many more have been coming in today. They come from all over Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Tennessee, and from several other states. They are the guests of the company from the time they leave their home until they return. The homecoming was first undertaken by the Ahlbrand Company in 1913, and the event proved such a success that it has been repeated each year, and is an occasion of much pleasure and benefit to both the manufacturers and their dealers.

At the banquet last night A. R. Woods, of Indianapolis, the Indiana salesman of the company, acted as toastmaster, and the welcoming address was delivered by H. C. Wilhite, of Greenfield, Ill., the Illinois representative of the firm. Former Attorney-General T. M. Honan was on the program and responded with an interesting and much appreciated talk. Music was furnished during the evening by Mrs. Carl Brunow and Miss Eleanor Ahlbrand, and several other entertainment features were on the program.

Tonight at six o'clock another dinner will be served, and there will be a large number of dealers at the banquet board. Many of the visiting dealers are able to stay only a day or two, and as the homecoming extends throughout the week, there are new visitors coming in each day.

COUNCIL TO AWAIT DECISION OF COURT

Refuses to Recognize Either Contender in the City Engineer's Controversy.

BOTH DEMAND THEIR WARRANTS

Andrews Tries to Bring Long Drawn Out Dispute to Climax, But is Unsuccessful.

Belief that the city council will follow a "hands-off" policy in the city engineer's controversy was confirmed at the meeting of the board of works last night when the majority of the members stated that in their opinion the question involved was one for the court to decide. In order to get the matter before the council in hope that the long drawn out squabble might reach a climax, Councilman Andrews moved that certain improvements be made on streets in the Second ward under the direction of W. H. Rights, who was appointed by Mayor Ross following the dismissal of E. B. Douglass. The motion was lost for want of a second.

Some of the members, however, took the occasion to express their views on the matter. Ahlbrand said that he had no doubt but that the mayor had the right and authority to appoint the engineer but thought that the court would decide whether or not the mayor had the power to summarily dismiss the engineer. He said he had been informed that the question would be thrashed out in the courts and thought that since this action was to be taken the council should wait for the decision.

Mayor Ross, who attended the meeting, took the floor and spoke at length on the matter. He set forth his reasons for dismissing Douglass and said that he took the action only after he had consulted attorneys and had been informed positively that there was no question but that the right was vested in him. He pointed out that the controversy was interfering to some extent with the work of the engineer's department and thought the council should endeavor to settle the matter.

It is stated that if the council would approve the bond of the new engineer such action would indicate that the majority of the members were supporting the mayor and the controversy would end. On the other hand, it is claimed, the approval of the bond is only a minor detail in the fight and the real question is whether or not the mayor has the right to dismiss an engineer without filing charges and giving the latter an opportunity to answer them at the public hearing.

The controversy has been pending for three months and in the meantime neither contender for the office is receiving his salary. Both Rights and Douglass make demand for their warrants twice each month, this being done as a matter of protection should the case get into the courts. The city treasurer is withholding the warrants until he is assured that he is paying the man who is legally entitled to the office. The state board of accounts gave one opinion to Clerk Albert Johnson which Rights contends is in his favor. In substance it stated that the treasurer could turn over the warrants to the one whom he believed was legally entitled to them, and cited one case which Rights thinks is parallel to this controversy and which was decided in his favor.

The council believes if the courts are to decide the case it would wait for that decision and thereby avoid a possibility of paying two men. Until the controversy is ended or the state board of accounts gives some information regarding it the warrants will be withheld by the clerk and treasurer.

MANY PASSENGERS ON ANCONA LOST

Italian Liner Sent to Bottom by Submarine Flying Austrian Flag—270 Reported Saved.

MANY OF RESCUED WOUNDED

Investigation Made to Determine if Ship Was Trying to Escape From the Undersea Vessel.

By United Press.
London, November 10—About three hundred persons, mostly women and children, with many Americans among them, perished when a submarine flying the Austrian flag shelled and sunk the Italian liner Ancona, off Bizerta, Tunis, according to Lloyd's today.

Of the ship's company of 582 (422 passengers and a crew of 160) only 270 are definitely accounted for as saved and of these many are wounded. Following swiftly on the news of the Ancona's destruction came a report from Madrid that two German submarines had been sunk by English submarines in the Mediterranean near Gibraltar.

Whether the torpedoed liner was attacked without warning or was sunk while trying to escape was not definitely known. A Rome message said the submarine fired one hundred shots at the liner and it is surmised that the latter was the case.

The survivors were landed at Bizerta, Cape Bon, and Ferryville on the African coast. Many were so badly wounded that they were transferred to hospitals at once. Rome advices indicate that the loss of life was heaviest among the immigrants.

AMERICANS REPORTED LOST ON THE ANCONA

Believed That Italian Censor is Responsible for Delay in News to This Country.

By United Press.
Rome, November 10—Americans are among the missing passengers on the Italian liner, Ancona torpedoed late yesterday by an Austrian submarine, it was learned definitely here today.

The above dispatch from Rome was the first concerning the Ancona to reach New York direct from an Italian source since early today. It is taken for granted that the Italian censorship is responsible for the delay.

Advantages of the Gary School Plan.

Besides the two experiments of the Gary plan being made in New York City, it is also being tested in Michigan and Illinois. When Troy, New York, had one of its school buildings destroyed by fire, Dr. Wirt was summoned to solve the plan of housing the dispossessed pupils. He accommodated these children in a building already occupied by another school, and although both schools were temporarily disturbed, they made the best records in the State Regents' examination at the end of the term.

The problem of school congestion is one that is constantly recurring, particularly in our large cities. Dr. Wirt achieved the ideal of a "seat for every pupil" by seating only a portion of the children at a time, the others meanwhile working in the shops, reading in the libraries, using the playgrounds, visiting the museums or menageries, or pursuing some other field of operations. The hooted religious instruction question is solved by giving each child an opportunity to attend a class for such instruction wherever the parents may decide. And the churches are gladly co-operating by furnishing facilities for such instruction, for many believe that this Gary plan is the best way to teach the twenty million boys and girls between five and twenty years of age who, it is estimated, do not attend Sunday Schools.

While the Gary plan makes a longer working day for the teacher, it does away with home work, which consumes many of the teachers' evenings, as well as being a bugaboo to pupils and parents alike. Also under the Gary system, the teacher is allowed more initiative and independence. The fact that this system, which has been successful in Gary, a city of 35,000 population, is also being considered by New York with its 5,000,000—and, according to Mayor Mitchel, has already been successful in the two cases under trial, would seem to bear out Dr. Wirt's contention that the principle of the Gary plan can be applied anywhere and under the most widely differing conditions. The plan has many enthusiastic advocates. Parents as well as school authorities and city officials, will be increasingly interested in following the progress of the Gary plan in the various places in which it is already in operation.—From "The Originator of the Gary Plan," in the American Review of Reviews for November.

NEW SEAMEN'S LAW IS A BENEFIT TO SAILORS

Provides Compensation and Hours of Labor and Regulates Treatment of Men.

By United Press.

Washington, D. C., November 10.—Here is just what the new LaFollette Seamen's act provides for owners, sailors and public, with the Commerce department's rulings on certain sections of the law incorporated.

Section 1 compels a ship captain, short-handed during a voyage to fill vacancies with men of the same or higher rating before proceeding. Section 2 makes nine hours a day's work in port. Section 3 provides that for every day's delay in collecting his wages, a man gets double pay. Section 4 provides that in any port a sailor on any ship may collect half his pay or complain to U. S. officers and get full pay and the right to quit. Section 5 rules that a majority of the common crew may have the ship examined for seaworthiness, or its supplies for quality, by U. S. agents. Section 6 bids goodbye to the forecastle of fiction. There must be a berth for each man in a clean room drained and ventilated and with shower bath. There must be a ship's hospital.

When a sailor quits, says Section 7, he cannot be imprisoned or forced to work. For insubordination he may be placed in irons and for assaulting an officer, imprisoned two days. Section 9 prohibits flogging sailors. If the master of a vessel fails to deliver such an offender, he and the vessel owners are liable for damages. Section 10 gives two ounces of butter and 5 quarts of water to each sailor, daily. Section 11 prohibits sailors assigning wages to employment offices or saloons. Wages can be assigned only to near relatives. Section 12 prohibits garnishment of wages except by courts acting for near relatives. Section 13 requires 75 percent of each crew to understand officers' orders; but orders is all they need, understand. Forty per cent. of the crew must be able seamen. This will gradually rise to 65 per cent. in 1920. An able seaman must have had three years' service on the seas or Great Lakes.

Each lifeboat shall be in charge of an able seaman. Ships more than twenty miles from shore must have lifeboats and liferafts for all, except from May 15 to September 15, when there must be boats and rafts for 70 per cent. On the great lakes, boats for 20 per cent. and rafts for 30 per cent. are required. Section 15 requires any barge losing a passenger or sailor to report it.

Sections 16 and 17 give foreign sailors the right to quit foreign ships in U. S. harbors. All treaties requiring U. S. officers to hunt such deserters are abrogated by Section 8. Section 19 provides that a sailor ill away from home, is to be cared for by a U. S. consul.

NATION'S PRINCIPAL FARM CROPS SET NEW RECORD

Total Value Exceeds Previous Figures by More Than Half a Billion.

The nation's principal farm crops this year are worth about five and a half billion dollars, exceeding by more than half a billion their value in 1914, the previous banner year in the country's crop history. There has been an unprecedented harvest, many of the crops exceeding their best records, and high prices due to the influences of the European war have contributed to swell the total value.

Statistics announced by the department of agriculture at Washington City, in its November crop report base values on prevailing prices. Corn with a production of 3,090,509,000 bushels—34,000,000 bushels below the record crop—is worth $1,913,025,071, the most valuable corn crop ever grown. It exceeds the former biggest value crop, that of 1914, by $190,000,000.

Wheat, with the largest production ever known in any country 1,002,029,000 bushels, or about one-fourth of the world's wheat crop this year, is worth $932,888,999, or $54,000,000 more than the record of 1914.

The oats crop also was a record one, both in point of production and value. The harvest was 1,517,478,000 bushels—almost 100,000,000 bushels better than the record of 1911—and its value, $532,599,822, is $33,000,000 more than the record value of the 1914 crop.

Barley, rye, sweet potatoes, hay and rice were record crops in point of production and tobacco almost equaled its best production. The rye and hay crops were records in point of value.

The approximate value of the barley crops is $118,577,682, the rye crop $37,801,403. Buckwheat $12,852,750, potatoes $218,425,824, sweet potatoes $42,456,050 and hay $877,054,890.

ELECTION OF 1860.

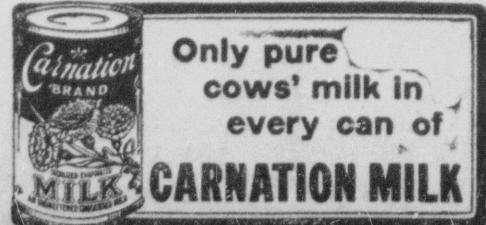

As was the political custom, Morton and Turpie, as opposing candidates, conducted a joint campaign. Both men were young and vigorous, in their thirties, and their canvass was earnest and searching dealing with the same questions that had been handled by Lincoln and Douglas in their joint debates; viz, popular Democratic party had split into the Douglas and Breckinridge divisions, which did not help the Democratic cause in Indiana. In the election, Lane defeated.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD BEFORE WINTER

Free yourself from the menace of bad health when the cold and wet sets in. Sufferers from Catarrh, Rheumatism, and Eczema are worse in winter. Take S. S. S. now.

Advice of this character has been given by our trained specialists year after year as summer began to wane and the coming of Fall heralded the time when storms and cold are near. We repeat this warning here. Sufferers from Catarrh will undoubtedly find the symptoms much aggravated as Winter approaches. With the first chill blasts the Rheumatism lets itself be felt. There are forms of winter Eczema—one in particular—called Tetter that causes real suffering when cold weather comes. The mere aches and minor pains of Rheumatism not only change in winter, but the changes are apt to be so decided in their violence as to cause the most intense suffering. Horrible aching pains in the limbs, in the back, in the joints, even rheumatic pains in the head and face sometimes supposed to be neuralgia. Catarrh is back again, more intense than last winter with the continual hawking and spitting, headaches, dripping of phlegm in the nose and throat, the stopped air passages and the foetid odor from the breath. Is it not a common-sense thing to do to avoid these troubles, to eradicate them from the system when it can be so easily done with a positive remedy such as S. S. S.? Remember, first of all, that the troubles we mention are blood troubles—deep-seated ones. Laugh at the man who recommends lotions, salves and local medicines. The trouble must be washed out of the blood. Thousands of people have been permanently relieved of blood and skin disease of every kind by the use of S. S. S., and many of those who, perhaps, at first did not find the results entirely satisfactory, wrote our physicians a full statement of their case, and a little advice hastened the relief. The only reason for wanting you to write us is that we may use every effort to see that you get the best result from the medicine. You can then help us by advising your friends to use S. S. S., which you will know from experience is all we claim for it. You can write with the assurance that all correspondence is held in strictest confidence, and that our physicians will give you helpful advice without charge. For sale at all drug stores. Periscopic Paragraphs.

A ticklish proposition isn't always a laughing matter.

One of life's mysteries: how a fellow whose first name is Perey ever got to be coach of the Harvard football team.

The Iowa football team has sprung a new alibi. The Hawkeye coach says his team lost to Purdue because they were suffering from ptomaine poisoning. Coach Childs please note.

The president has said that ridicule is worse than bullets. Well, the Americans along the Mexican border are getting a taste of both.

Popular song for the day: "A hunting we will go."

The A. B. C.'s have won a series from the Havana team. Now if Columbus could just have won that 12 to 0 game they could claim the championship of Cuba.

When we get ready to commit a crime we think we will go to Kentucky. One man down there got two years for beating another to death with a fence picket and a fellow who pumped a bullet through a prominent Louisvillian got off with a $100 fine and an apology.

We saw a milinery creation yesterday that reminded us of nothing quite so much as the wings of a bi-plane all ready to set sail.

"The new stenographer spells fiercely."

"Well if she spells it correctly, it's the only word she ever has got right."

O, Very Well.

A friend of ours intends writing an essay on the forthcoming corn show, and asks us if he should make it a cereal story.

George Ade recently visited St. Louis, and a Mound City newspaper man sought him out to get him to say something for publication. Here is his account of the interview:

Ade is one of the easiest men in public life to interview. He is as gabby as the Sphinx. His views and impressions of public men and public questions flow as freely as molasses from the spigot of a barrel in the cellar of an Indiana village grocery on December 31, with the thermometer seeking the subcellar. With the aid of an anger and a suction pump worked by compressed air, he last night yielded up his views on the Anglo-American loan, President Wilson's engagement, the outcome of the European war, the future of the Mexican Republic, Bryan's chances for the presidency, Roosevelt's influence on the tendency to popularize the recognition of war brides, the ultimate efficiency of the Panama Canal, the drift toward national prohibition and woman suffrage.

The postage stamp on which the reporter recorded the notes of the interview in full got all gummed up with a couple of trading stamps in the reporter's pocket later, and the thoughts of Ade on these important questions are temporarily lost to the world.

DON'T WAIT

When the back begins to ache, Don't wait until backache becomes chronic;

'Till kidney troubles develop; 'Till urinary troubles destroy night's rest.

Profit by a Seymour citizen's experience.

Mrs. George Kramer, 206 S. Broadway, Seymour, says: "One of my family was greatly distressed by disordered kidneys and was cured by Doan's Kidney Pills. THE SCHOOL OF EXPERIENCE

Many successful manufacturers hold diplomas in the advertising school of experience.

They have tried out the best ways of pushing their goods and learned for themselves.

They know exactly what they are doing when they spend a dollar for advertising.

The experiences of these graduates are told of in a booklet, "The Newspapers."

This will be sent to any advertiser on request by the Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association, World Building, New York.

tional confusion would be experienced. This would be especially true, it is declared, by property owners who live in other cities and who settle taxes through the mails. The joint plan was instituted for the convenience of property owners who live in cities that are not county seats.

The members of the board heard the arguments in favor and against the proposed change, and asked the city attorney to make a further investigation relative to the legal points raised. Kasting is assured that the city treasurer has the right to collect the taxes and to bring suit when they become delinquent.

It was pointed out at the meeting that the salaries of the clerk and treasurer in this city were made with the understanding that they were not to handle the tax receipts. One of the councilmen stated today that in his opinion the present system should be left unchanged at least during the present administration and doubted if it would be advisable later to change it unless other conditions were fully met.

Mrs. Anna Pomeroy and Ira Pomeroy and Mrs. George Thompson arrived home this morning from a trip through the East. They visited in New York City, Philadelphia and other places of interest.

FLOOR LEADERS TO BE SIDETRACKED

Senator Kern and Representative Kitchin Will Not Lead Fight For Preparedness Program.

INDIANA SENATOR "LUKEWARM"

Padgett and Chamberlain to Wage Battle for the Administration Measures.

By United Press

Washington, November 10.—Democratic floor leaders in both the senate and house are to be sidetracked by the administration, it was learned today, in forcing through the national defense program.

Senator Kern, leader in the senate, and Representative Kitchin, house leader, will not have charge of the preparedness legislation. Secretary Garrison has already reached an agreement with Chairman Hays of the House military committee for Hays to take charge of the army military bill in the lower chamber. Chairman Padgett of the house naval committee will have charge of the navy program. In the senate Chairman Chamberlain of the military committee will act.

Kitchin has disqualified himself so far as the defense bills are concerned because of his refusal to support the administration's naval program. Senator Kern will yield to Chamberlain because it is the latter's own field. Kern is also regarded as lukewarm towards the program having given statements in Indiana opposing a big program before he recently announced himself for it.

CONTRACT WITH TELEPHONE COMPANY EXPIRES NOV. 18

Committee of Council Enters Into New Agreement—Special Phones At Fire Station.

The contract with the Seymour Mutual Telephone for maintaining the Gamewell fire alarm system and sounding the gong at the fire station when notice of fires is received at the exchange expires November 18 and a committee composed of Fire Chief Everhart, City Attorney Kasting and Councilmen Rockstroh and Andrews, met with L. C. Griffiths, owner of the Telephone Company today to renew the agreement. The Telephone Company has been performing this service for $50 a year under a five year contract.

The terms were discussed at the conference held today and it was agreed that the old contract would be renewed with a few additional requirements. Under the franchise the company furnishes one telephone at the fire station free of charge. This phone is used for reporting fires and all other purposes and it was thought advisable to install a special telephone at the fire station to be used only in case of fire.

Mr. Griffiths agreed to install the new phone with a special wire for $1.50 per month and 50 cents for the extension to the sleeping apartments. The special phones will be equipped with red signal lights and gongs. It is believed that with these phones quicker and better service can be maintained.

ARGUMENTS FOR NEW TRIAL MADE IN CIRCUIT COURT

Gravel Road Contractor is Plaintiff in Case Venued From Orange County.

Arguments for a new trial were made in circuit court today in the case of Jacob R. Chastain against the county board of commissioners of Orange county. The case was venued from Orange county and tried in the circuit court several months ago. The finding was in favor of the commissioners and the plaintiff asked for a new trial.

Chastain is a contractor and some time ago built a new road in Orange county. The commissioners held that the road was not constructed according to the plans and specifications and refused to pay the entire contract price. Chastain contended that the road was built according to the agreement and instituted suit to collect the balance of the contract price. In the trial he failed to prove that he had complied with the plans and specifications. He is represented by Kochenour & Prince of Brownstown and Elliott & Houston of Salem. The commissioners were represented by McCart and Harvey, of Paoli, and Thomas M. Honan, of this city. The plaintiff was paid eighty per cent. of the contract price and the 20 per cent. alleged to be due him amounts to about $2,500.

No Vowels In It.

Many places have curious names, but apparently there is only one place which has a name without any vowels. That place is the little hamlet of Ws, near Paris. Ws being an unpronounceable name, the inhabitants of the hamlet have transformed it into "D'Us," but this change has not been sanctioned legally, and on all the official records the name Ws still appears. The hamlet has only about a hundred inhabitants, and its sole attractions are the Chateau d'Osny, which has been for many years in the possession of Edmond About's family, and the Chateau de Vigny, which is one of the very best specimens of the renaissance style of architecture.—London Mail.

—They said she would not find the little suit outside of a big city, but she found it down at the big store in your own city.

The other day a lady had been tipped off by a friend in the city what the new thing was in the way of a little boys suit so she sat out in search of correct apparel for the little man.

At different stores she was told they did not have them, some said they were not correct, etc., until finally the lady began to think the search was in vain. Coming down to the big store that's doing things she found just the identical thing, the very suit she had been inquiring for.

Now we've had a lot of such instances; in fact, the original shipment went right out, and they are going after the second.

So they must look pretty good.

ITALIAN ARMY TO HELP SERBS KITCHENER TO GO TO INDIA

To Block Bulgarian Invasion Gigantic Mutiny of People of Albania. Said to Exist.

WILL CRUSH MONTENEGRO GERMAN INFLUENCE SEEN

Berlin Declares 120,000 Austrian Soldiers Are Ready to Sweep Montenegro, Which Is a Part of the Teuton-Balkan Plan.

London, Nov. 10.—The Bulgarian army under General Bojadieff, has reached Morava, a little north of Aleksinac, less than twenty miles north of Nish, the Serbian war capital.

Directly opposite, on the eastern bank of the river, the German center advanced to the heights of Djunis, a few miles from the Orient railroad. Thus a junction of the Teuton forces with their Balkan ally in that region, is a matter of hours.

With this junction the invaders will have established a straight line clear through central Serbia from the Bosnian frontier, due west of Ivanjica, occupied by the Austro-Huns, to the Bulgarian frontier, due east of Kniazevac, in Bulgarian hands.

The invading armies in western Serbia also are making steady headway, driving the main Serbian force further and further south. Vienna announces that Austro-Hungarian troops have taken Ivanjica and thrown the Serbians from the Ivanjica-Kraljevo road.

The southern Bulgarian army, completing the downward sweep of the semi-circle around the Serbians, took the city of Leskovac, twenty-five miles south of Nish, and situated on the Salonica-Nish railroad.

The total number of Serbians captured by the Germans is 7,000, Berlin reports, including those taken with the fall of Kruzevac.

With regard to the southern theater, no official reports were given out. Fighting of a violent character is going on for the Babuna pass, held by the Franco-Serbian forces, and Strumitza, where the British and French are trying to break through the Bulgarian lines.

Rome dispatches quote a semi-official note published there to the effect that Italy is about to send a large force to Albania, in consequence of the Bulgarian threat to invade that country to reach the Adriatic, a threat, which the note is quoted as saying obliges Italy to take appropriate measures to frustrate it immediately.

Berlin advices state that 120,000 Austrian troops are ready to crush Montenegro, an object said to be one of the main parts of the Teuton-Balkan plan.

The Geneva Tribune's Bucharest correspondent telegraphs to his paper that 60,000 Albanians are preparing, at German instigation, to attack the Serbians from the rear, in the regions of Monastir and Prizren.

Washington, Nov. 10.—According to a "confidential" reports current here that the ultimate destination of Lord Kitchener on his present mission to the east is India and not the Balkans.

The trouble in India, in its present form, is said to have resulted from the deposition of the Nizam of Hyderabad by his people. This head of the most important native state of India, distinguished himself at the outset of the war by pledging all his treasure to the support of the British government and declaring it to be the duty of all Mohammedans to aid the British empire.

According to these reports, the unrest in India has taken on a most serious aspect. These reports were not confirmed in any official quarter. In diplomatic circles, particularly in those vitally interested in the fate of India and the British military operations, it was said that nothing was known of Kitchener's alleged mission to take charge of the situation in India.

Incidentally, however, it was noted in an authoritative quarter that the reports regarding the deposition of the Nizam by his people, presumably because of his support of the British, mentioned a name quite different from that of the Nizam. The name of the real Nizam is H. H. Sir Usman Ali Kahn Bahadur Fateh, G. C. S. I., while the reports current here ascribed to one Nawab Sultan Ul Molk, the title of the Nizam of Hyderabad.

German influences are credited with being responsible for the increased tension in India. The Germans predicted an immediate uprising in India at the outset of the war, and the British have had reason to believe that German agents were engaged in trying to foment unrest against British rule in India and also in Egypt.

It is represented that Lord Kitchener's trip to India is to be prefaced, probably, by a visit to the Balkans, and also to Egypt. The reports of serious disturbances in India—none of which are permitted to come through regular channels on account of the British censorship—were regarded as most interesting here because of questions they raise with Japan.

It has been a much discussed question whether Japan, in the event of a mutiny in India of such proportions as to threaten British rule, would send troops to India to suppress the revolt.

EDITOR ESCAPES ARREST

But Is Given $1 Fine For Speeding, Anyway.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 10.—While occupying an automobile participating in a reliability test through Hartford City, Managing Editor Sid A. Weinschenk of the Marion Chronicle was stopped by the town marshal and accused of speeding.

Although not at the wheel Weinschenk assumed the blame. The marshal said he would not make an arrest because the mayor was out of town.

Later the Hartford City marshal called Weinschenk by telephone and informed him the mayor had decided to fine him $1 and costs. Weinschenk demanded a trial by jury which will be held Saturday.

This is said to be the first instance on record where a fine was imposed in a case where no arrest was made.

All is given to the widow, Mrs. Mamie Wright Turner, subject only to a "charge for the payment of a reasonable amount" to his mother, for her support during life.

GIRL SHOTS ALLEGED FATHER OF HER CHILD

Man Had Turned His Back on Her In Court Room.

Corsicana, Tex., Nov. 10.—In the presence of a throng of men and women who crowded the circuit court room here to hear the sordid details of her love affair, Miss Alma Morgan shot and perhaps fatally wounded Allen Godley, charged with being the father of her child.

Godley is not expected to live. The trial had just been adjourned until February and Godley was talking with his attorneys in front of the judge's bench. Miss Morgan, with her baby in her arms, approached.

"Allen, here's your baby," she said, holding the child toward him.

Without a word, Godley turned his back on the girl and walked away. Miss Morgan's face paled, and, fumbling in a handbag she jerked out a revolver and fired. Godley pitched on his face and in an instant the room was in an uproar.

The bullet struck Godley at the base of the neck, came out at his breast and struck the judge's stand, narrowly missing a court attendant.

Miss Morgan was taken in custody and removed to jail. The only statement she would make was that she had "stood all she could and that she had come to court prepared to kill Godley the day before, but that she had had no opportunity."

ASK $100,000,000 FOR AMERICAN RED CROSS

Society Will Work For Endowment Fund.

New York, Nov. 10.—A $100,000,000 endowment fund, a membership consisting of every man, woman and child in the United States, with an annual membership fee of $1.50, and a merger of all the war relief societies under its banner—this is the goal toward which the American Red Cross aims.

The program was announced at a meeting at the home of Mrs. White-law Reid, 451 Madison avenue. The speakers were General Leonard Wood, commander of the department of the east; Miss Mabel Boardman, secretary of the Red Cross; Dr. Charles F. Stokes, former surgeon-general, U. S. N., and former President W. H. Taft, whom President Wilson has just made chairman of the central committee of the Red Cross.

Joseph Choate presided and took occasion to praise what he termed President Wilson's courage in speaking out for national preparedness.

General Wood said the Red Cross, which was the "big brother of the army and navy," ought to have the backing and substantial help of the government.

"The Red Cross should call on the government to formulate a plan of co-operation," he said.

ASK PAY FOR MILITIAMEN

Proposed Bill Would Give National Guardsmen a Salary.

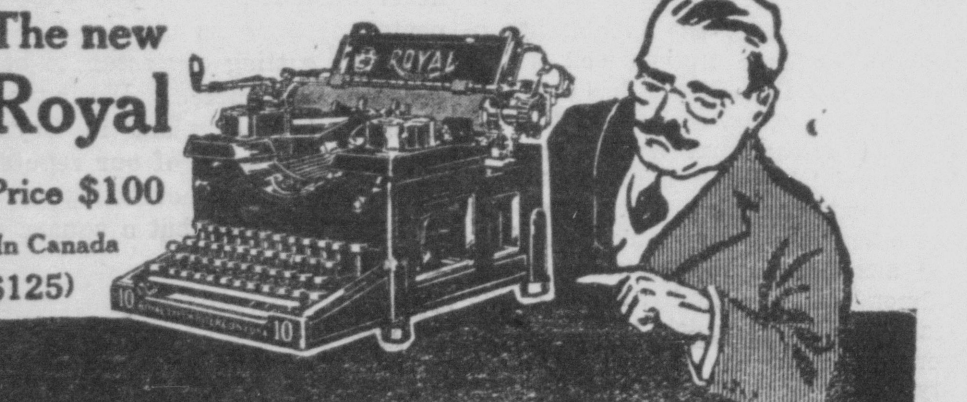

Washington, Nov. 10.—It became known here that the administration will throw no obstacle in the way of a bill that will be offered in the house in the coming session by Representative Hay, Virginia, chairman of the military committee, providing pay for enlisted men and officials in the state militia organizations.

It is the present purpose of Mr. Hay to provide in his bill that enlisted men shall be paid $50 a year and officers increased amounts according to rank. The measure, it is understood, will have strong support throughout the country. It is believed that its enactment would result soon in an increase in the organized militia from 129,000, its present strength, to about 250,000 men.

CHAPTER XXIV.

In a small room over the post office in Peril an attorney, whose professional success had always been precarious, received those few clients who came to him for consultation. The lawyer's name was Walter Hackley, but he was better known as Clayheel Hackley, because he never wore socks and his bare ankles were tanned to the hue of river-bank mud.

His features were wizened and his eyes shifty. He was a coward and an intriguer by nature and inclination. It was logical enough that when the verdict of the director's table that Bad Anse Havey was a nuisance filtered down the line the persons seeking native methods for abating the nuisance should come to Clayheel Hackley.

One day in August this attorney at law, together with Jim Fletcher and a tricky youth who enjoyed the distinction of holding office as telegraph operator at the Peril station, caucused together in Hackley's dingy room.

In the death of Bad Anse Havey this trio saw a joint advantage, since the abating of such a nuisance would not go unrewarded.

"Gentlemen," said the attorney, his wizened face working nervously, "this business has need to be expeditious. Gentlemen—it requires, in its nature, to be expeditious. A few more failures and we are done for."

"Well, tell us how ye aims ter do hit," growled the telegraph operator.

"Jim Fletcher has the idea," replied the lawyer impressively. "Quite the right idea. How many men can you trust on a job like this, Jim?"

"As many as ye needs," was the confident response. "A dozen or a score if they're wanted."

"Enough to make it sure, but not too many," urged Hackley. "We should set a day precisely as the court would set a day for—er—an execution. The force you send out should simply stay on the job until it's done. If Anse Havey can be got alone, so much the better. But above all—"

The lawyer paused and spoke with his most forceful emphasis: "Don't just wound this man. See that the thing is finally and definitely settled."

"I'll be there myself," Jim Fletcher assured him. "Now when is this day goin' ter be?"

"This is Monday?" reflected the attorney. "There is no advantage in delay. It will take a day or two to get ready. Let the case be docketed, as I might say—for Thursday."

Anse Havey had gone to Lexington. Never again did he mean to hold against himself the accusation of "the unlit lamp and the ungrit loin." He knew that she loved him.

In Lexington he had bought a ring and at Peril he had got a marriage license. His camp-following days were over. He had one youth, and he knew that if his enemies succeeded in their designs that might at any moment be snapped short with sudden death. It did not seem to him that one of its golden hours should be wasted.

As he came out of the courthouse with the invaluable piece of paper in his pocket two men, seemingly unarmed, rose from the doorway of the store across the street and drifted toward their hitched horses.

Young Milt McBriar had ridden over to Peril that day with several companions, and Anse Havey went back with them. So it happened that quite accidentally he made this journey under escort. The men who rode a little way in his rear cursed their luck—and waited. And, though they lurked in hiding all that afternoon near Anse Havey's house, they saw nothing more of their intended victim.

Anse was keenly alive to each day's impending threat, and when he recognized the face of Jim Fletcher in Peril, as he came through, he had read mischievous in the eyes and recognized that the menace had drawn closer.

So, when he was ready to cross the ridge to the school, he obeyed an old sense of caution and left his horse saddled at the front fence that it might seem as if he were going out—but had not yet gone.

He had sent a messenger for Good Anse Talbot and the preacher arrived while he was at his supper.

"Brother Anse," he said, "I'm goin' to need ye some time betwixt now and midnight. I want ye to tarry here till I come back."

"What's the nature of business ye needs me fer, Anse?" demanded the missionary. "I hadn't hardly ought ter wait. That's a child ailin' up the top fork of little fork of Turkey-Foot creek."

But Bad Anse only shook his head. "It's the best business ye ever did," he confidently assured the preacher. "But I can't tell ye yet. Is the child in any danger?"

"I reckon not; hit's jest ailin' but—"

The brown-faced man sat dubiously shaking his head, and Anse's features suddenly set and hardened.

"I needs ye," he said. "Ain't that enough? I'm goin' to need ye bad."

"That's a right strong reason, Anse, but—"

For an instant the old dominating will which had not yet learned to brook mutiny leaped into Anse Havey's eyes. His words came in a harsher voice:

"Will you stay of your own free will because I'm goin' to need ye, Brother Anse?" he demanded. "Because, by God, ye're goin' to stay—one way or another."

"Does ye mean ye aims ter hold me hyar by force?"

"Not unless ye make me. I wouldn't hardly like to do that."

For a moment the missionary debated. He did not resent the threat

"Gentlemen," said the attorney, "This Business Has Need to Be Expeditious."

of coercion. He believed in Anse Havey, and the form of request convinced him of its urgency.

So he nodded his head. "I'll be hyar when ye comes," he said.

Anse left his house that night neither by front nor back, but in the dark shadows at one side, and his tall, thin man of luck led his noiseless feet safely between the scattered sentinels who were watching his dwelling to kill him.

The school buildings slept in silent shadows, except that from the open door of the room where her piano stood there came a soft flooding of lamplight—a single dash of orange in the nocturne of silver and gray.

He went up very quietly, pausing to drink of the fragrance of the honey-suckle, and there drifted out to him, as he paused, the music of the piano and the better music of her voice.

She was singing a love song.

Though he had sent no word of his coming, she was once more in evening dress, all black save for a crimson flower at her breast and one in her hair. But this time the sight of her in a costume so foreign to the hills did not distress him; it was a night that called for wonders.

She rose as the man's footstep sounded on the floor, and then, at memory of their last meeting, the color mounted to her cheeks and he took her again in his arms.

FRENCH TRADE MISSION HERE

Come to America to Buy New Machinery.

WILL MAKE A NEW FRANCE

New Trade Will Amount to $160,000,000 a Year to American Commerce —New York the New Money Center of the World.

New York, Nov. 10.—The French commercial commission of six members who are to study American methods of manufacture, preparatory to buying her vast quantities of machinery, with which to rebuild the ruined industries of France, arrived on the new liner, Lafayette.

These men possessed a quiet confidence in their country's destiny, the new spirit of France, which, with the enemy still firmly entrenched within its boundaries, is preparing through them to repair the waste of war and build a greater state.

Two of them came direct from the front and another from a military hospital, where the explosion of a German shell sent him last June.

They spoke of their plans as of an end already determined. The iron ring of the invader will be pushed back when the day comes, the rich cities of the north will be reclaimed, the shattered factories rebuilt and in them will presently hum the machinery that will bring prosperity. It is that machinery which they are seeking here—American machines will make the new France.

"The United States has built a great reputation for making machinery of precision and reliability as a result of the materials sent to France since the war," said Maurice Damour, member of the chamber of deputies, and head of the commission. "This country will get the great trade in machinery that Germany had before the war, a trade that amounted to $160,000,000 a year. That is why we are here, to learn what to buy and how best to buy it, and arrange close connections between the banks of the two countries to aid in making the purchases."

In connection with the financial phase of the commission's visit, M. Damour said that New York had become the money center of the world, and that the French realized it. It was bound to come in time, he said, although fought bitterly by the English, but the war merely hastened its recognition.

All France is working with but one purpose in view, the defeat of Germany, said M. Damour. As to peace terms, that phase brought the only the excitable remark, "Never!"

INJURED IN EXPLOSION

Three Burned When Oil Can Explodes, Setting House on Fire.

Brazil, Ind., Nov. 10.—Mrs. John Moore was seriously burned, her husband was severely injured and J. H. Hall, a visitor from Robinson, Ill., was painfully burned in an explosion of a coal oil can at the Moore home. Mr. Moore was building a fire in a grate and was using a coal oil can to pour oil on a rag. Mrs. Moore was standing nearby and was enveloped in fire in the explosion which followed. The home caught fire and the room was filled with smoke. She is so badly burned over the body that her recovery is doubtful. The men were burned on the arms and hands.

WHY MEN CHEW TOBACCO

It's the Only Way That Real Tobacco Hunger Can Be Entirely Satisfied

"OLD KENTUCKY" IDEAL CHEW

Since tobacco was first introduced to civilization, nobody has ever discovered so supremely satisfactory a way to get all the flavor and enjoyment out of it as chewing it. And no other form of chew can give you the hearty, wholesome, juicy flavor that you get from a delicious high-grade plug tobacco like Old Kentucky.

The secret of the greatest chewing satisfaction lies in the selection of your chew. Among plug tobaccos the brand that gets the most enthusiastic endorsement is undoubtedly Old Kentucky. The reason for this is not hard to find.

Old Kentucky is made exclusively of ripe Kentucky Burley—the most richly-flavored chewing tobacco that grows. Still more, only the very choicest of all the Burley leaf is used for Old Kentucky.

This choice leaf is selected with the most painstaking care, is stemmed by hand, is thoroughly washed free of all foreign matter and is pressed into plugs so slowly that not a drop of juice or an atom of flavor escapes. Moreover, Old Kentucky is made under the most rigid, cleanly and sanitary conditions.

The result is a sweet, mellow, luscious, satisfying chew that cannot be obtained in any other tobacco than Old Kentucky.

Saved the Situation.

A certain famous statesman, when a young man, was for some time a clerk in one of the courts of justice. In those days his temper sometimes got the better of him, but on one occasion, at least, his wit saved him from disgrace. This was when questioning a witness the latter made an impudent retort, whereupon the clerk exclaimed angrily:

"If you are not more respectful I shall kick you out of the room."

"Young man," said the judge, interrupting the proceedings, "I would have you understand that this is a dignified court of justice and that if there is any kicking to be done the court will do it."

"Ah, you see," said the future statesman to the witness, "if you are not more respectful to me the court will kick you out of the room. So be very careful, sir."

NOSE DIAMONDS ARE LATEST.

Visitor From India Brings New Idea to San Francisco Women.

Mrs. Hander Kala Bagal, coming from northwestern India, has introduced San Francisco to the latest thing in jewelry—the nose diamond.

"Have your surgeon," says Mrs. Bagal, "pierce your nose horizontally above the nostrils and just under the bridge; then order from your jeweler a little, straight gold bar with a diamond set in one end. Run it through the perforation and—you're right up to the minute in fashions."

The craze, says Mrs. Bagal, is just becoming popular in India and is making the old fashioned nose ring passe.

FATHER THREATENS DEATH

Declares He Will Kill Houser For Attacking His Daughter.

Wichita, Kan., Nov. 10.—John F. Elam, secretary of the Van Armasdale-Osborn Brokerage Company, declared he will kill Arthur Houser, arrested in Indianapolis, if his daughter identifies him as the man who attacked her in April 1914, a block from Elam's house. George Grove, who was with the girl, was forced to watch the act.

Grove and Miss Elam now are married and live on a farm near Eureka, Kas.

Elam has done more to capture Houser than any other person. He hired several detectives and offered several rewards. He has always said he would kill the man who insulted his daughter.

Miss Ethel Lewis, of Uniontown, spent the day here with friends.
